FARMER GETS A CHANCE.

The Miami Metropolis frankly declares that "kept" newspapers who hang out sophomoric epitaphs for the late Senator Boise Penrose may now be expected to hang out some tinted language in exculpation of Arthur Brisbane, he of the scintillant pen, who has a knack of trimming down to the nerve. Brisbane, in his comment on the death of Penrose declared:

"If capable gentlemen of Wall Street expressed their feelings instead of suppressing them, there would be crepe on many doors and flags at half-mast down there, because of Boise Penrose's death. Senator Penrose was chairman of the finance committee that controls Uncle Sam's money. Now, McCumber, of North Dakota, is to be chairman, and he will have something to say.

"Penrose, powerful man, was dynamo of the Wall Street bloc, of which you hear little because it keeps its mouth shut and does business. McCumber, new finance chairman, belongs to the "farmers' bloc," of which you have heard a great deal.

"If the "farmers' bloc" continues growing in power you know you may see serious changes in the country. You might even see railroads run partly for the benefit of farmers, instead of seeing farmers run for the benefit of the railroads, as in the long past.

NEWBERRY'S OPPORTUNITY.

It must have been a severe shock to very small coterie of Republican senators who have had the temerity to openly espouse the seating of Senator Truman Newberry when the New York Herald, one of the staunchest of the Republican newspapers, recently printed an editorial in which it suggested that Newberry's only opportunity now, in all decency, is to get out and submit his case to the people of his state. We dare say he will do no such thing, for that verdict is already written. Here's what the Herald says:

The United States Senate, which by virtue of the Constitution is the judge of the election and qualifications of its Members, is expected within a few days to come to a vote on the question of whether Truman H. Newberry, of Michigan, who defeated Henry Ford in the election of 1918, is to retain his seat.

To some statesmen and newspapers this matter appears in the light of a considerable issue within the Republican Party. Others regard it as an issue chiefly of importance to the Senate itself.

Both of these angles may be visible to Senator Newberry; probably they are. But there is a third and very important angle, and this is the issue between Senator Newberry and himself.

Putting aside the honesty or falsity of the charges of corrupt practices which were made against the Newberry campaign and assuming that Senator Newberry was personally guilty of any conscious violation of law or ethics, the fact remains that Ford's persistent charges for three years have raised the Newberry case to the dignity of a real issue.

The case has reached a stage when, no matter what the weight of evidence for or against, the vote in the Senate will be regarded as a political vote.

Under those circumstances, even if Senator Newberry's right to his seat should be sustained by the Senate, he would inevitably be handicapped by the incessant war that has been made on him for the last three years. The very fact that he is a member of the political party dominant in the Senate would be a matter of embarrassment.

Some of the best friends of Senator Newberry, jealous for the preservation of the good record he made in his country's service, believe that under the circumstances it would be the brave thing and the wise thing for him to resign his seat and submit his case to the people of the State of Michigan by standing for reelection.

STORY HOUR TOMORROW AFTERNOON AT CITY HALL.

After a period of postponements due to the Holidays, bad weather and other reasons, it is hoped that the play and story hour under the auspices of Community Service will be held tomorrow afternoon. The children are asked to assemble at 3:30 in the afternoon on the City Hall lawn where games will be led as usual by Mr. Teeters. After an hour of play the children will be escorted to the Legion Hall where stories will be told by competent ladies who volunteer for this work. The story committee has had a number of reverses in establishing a regular place in which to carry on this branch of community work. It is hoped that now the work can go on without any trouble as the American Legion has kindly consented to lend their hall to the little tots for a story hour each week.

GIRL SCOUTS TO MEET

Troop 3 Girl Scouts will meet at usual in the Woman's Club Monday afternoon at the regular time, 4:15. The stringed instrument class will also meet in the evening at 7:30. Girls are asked to be prompt at these meetings. Work for the year will be discussed at the Scout meeting.

NEWBERRY RETAINS SEAT AS REWARD FOR LEAGUE DEATH

republican or as a democrat, entering the race subsequently as a candidate for nomination on both tickets.

On the republican ballot in the primary which was held August 27, 1918, Mr. Ford was opposed by Mr. Newberry, former Governor Chase S. Osborn and William Gerald Simpson, of Detroit. As a democrat, he was opposed by James W. Helme, of Adrian. Mr. Ford won the democratic nomination handily and Mr. Newberry was victor on the republican ticket. Neither had made personal efforts in the primary campaign and neither participated personally in the fight prior to the general election. Mr. Ford attended to his manufacturing business and Mr. Newberry remained in New York city, where he was stationed as a lieutenant commander in the navy during the war.

It was, however, the primary campaign about which events were to center and around which the succeeding storm was to rage. Chronologically developments followed in this order:

Charges were spread by Ford supporters against Newberry committee with more than $250,000 campaign and the fact was made that illegal had been brought to attention of voters respecting Newberry committee the nomination for test of Mr. Newberry the senate January (Continued on
